

Corinium
Training

UK GDPR and DPA 2018 after Brexit Training Course

Training course outline

This half-day training course with our in-house privacy experts will take you through:

- The changes that the UK GDPR and DPA 2018 have brought about.
- How to transfer data between the EU and UK after Brexit.
- When you need to appoint a lead supervisory authority and how to identify which supervisory authority is your lead.
- How to transfer data in and out of, the UK after Brexit.
- Steps you can take now.

What does this training course cover?

- An understanding of the changes that the UK GDPR and the DPA 2018 have brought about
- The legislation;
- The impact of Brexit;
- The key differences between the EU GDPR and the UK GDPR;
- The Commissioner's (ICO) obligations;
- Enforcement; and
- The relationship between the UK GDPR and the DPA 2018.
- An understanding of the roles and responsibilities for key personnel
- EU Representatives;
- UK Representatives; and
- DPO's.
- Identifying the need for a lead supervisory authority
- The need for a lead supervisory authority;
- The criteria for identifying and appointing a lead supervisory authority; and actions required.
- Transferring data in to, and out of, the UK after Brexit:
- Data transfer options;
- Steps involved;
- When derogations can be applied; and
- Actions you can take now.

UK GDPR and DPA 2018 after Brexit training course exam

There is no exam for this workshop.